

1. Cinema APK (Free)

Cinema APK is an extremely popular Android app for movies and TV shows. This app came into existence shortly before Terrarium TV's shutdown and became mainstream afterward.

With hundreds of hours of streamable content and an endless content line-up, Cinema APK is one of the must-have entertainment FireStick apps. The app has the backing of an active team of developers. The content library is regularly updated with new releases. The app itself gets regular software updates, making it better with time.

Cinema APK, just like Terrarium TV, does not host any content of its own. It is an aggregator that fetches the streaming links from multiple servers in various locations. Fetching the quality streams is one of the most important aspects of such service, and Cinema APK does the job well.

This lightweight app is fully FireStick, Fire TV remote-compatible making navigation, interaction, and handling incredibly easy.

2. CatMouse (Free)

CatMouse is another great new app for on-demand content including Movies and TV Shows. The app looks and functions so much like Terrarium TV that we think it is safe to assume it is a clone.

CatMouse is working impressively at the moment. It has loads of content for you to browse and binge-watch. It is also scraping high-quality streams from some top sources on the web. You will find dozens of Full-HD streams for most videos.

We are confident that CatMouse will become mainstream very soon. Therefore, we had no doubt it will be part of the best FireStick apps for movies and TV shows.

3. CyberFlix TV (Free)

Terrarium TV shutdown resulted in the spawning of many clones; CyberFlix TV is one of them. And, since CyberFlix TV is a clone, it looks exactly like Terrarium TV. The good news is that it also functions a lot like the original.

CyberFlix TV packs a solid collection of movies and TV shows. This scraper-based app also fetches the streams from several sources that were prominently seen in Terrarium TV. You can also sign in with your Real-Debrid account to access premium, Full HD streams.

You can sort the content by genre and year and mark videos as favorites for quick access.

4. Popcornflix (Free)

Acquired by Soul Entertainment in 2017, Popcornflix LLC is a streaming service that lets you enjoy free movies and TV shows. Popcornflix was created for people who want to watch great movies and TV shows without paying a penny.

Compelling documentaries, foreign films, original web series, you name it—Popcornflix has something for everyone. Popcornflix is one of the friendliest hubs for free movies and TV shows on the internet. It's officially available in 60 countries. But you can use this service anywhere in the world.

Installation Guide: Popcornflix officially supports Amazon Fire TV devices. But its official app is only available in the 60 supported regions of the Amazon Appstore. However, you can easily download and install the Popcornflix APK from a third party.

5. Titanium TV (Free)

Many users call Titanium TV an exact replica of Terrarium TV. After using the app for a while, I am also inclined to such judgment. The app has the same look and feels like that of Terrarium TV. It looks like the same codes have been used to write both these FireStick apps.

The good thing is that Titanium TV also works much the same as TTV. It features a big catalog of movies and TV shows and lets you stream them in high quality. The app fetches some good links, including several Full HD streams. You can also sign in to your Real-Debrid account and increase the number of Full HD links.

Titanium TV is lightweight and easy to install app. It works on FireStick, Fire TV Stick Lite, FireStick 4K, 2nd/3rd Gen, and Fire TV Cube.

6. BeeTV (Free)

If you are looking for an app with an endless collection of movies and TV shows, you may want to try BeeTV. This app has such a huge content library that you can binge-watch for hundreds of hours and you may still have plenty of left unstreamed.

BeeTV, like many other on-demand services, does not host any content of its own. It acts as an aggregator and pulls the streaming links from various sources on the internet. The app also features Real-Debrid sign-in, which helps the app fetch higher quality links. The regular updates to the media library make sure you always have something new to watch.

7. Nova TV (Free)

Nova TV is an easily personalize app with a library of thousands of movies, series, and TV shows. The app's library is also regularly updated so you always get access to the latest offerings in the TV and film world.

Nova TV is a highly organized app that sorts its content by category and sub-category. It also has a well-thought-out user interface to make it easier to navigate through its extensive library. Nova TV integrates with MX Player for the highest-quality video streaming links.

8. FilmPlus (Free)

There are tons of streaming apps for on-demand video content such as movies and TV shows for FireStick. FilmPlus is relatively new to the scene but is already one of the most popular of them.

FilmPlus comes with a very extensive library of video content. It scrapes its content by automatically crawling the host websites and collecting streaming links. Most of these links are high quality, so viewers can enjoy their favorite movies and shows in HD, Full HD, and 4K resolution.

In terms of its interface, FilmPlus looks and works like you'd expect. The app comes with a simple, well-designed, and intuitive interface. It's a free app, so you do not need to subscribe or even register to use it. For even more high-quality links, you can integrate a premium debrid account, such as Real-Debrid. You can also link a Trakt account so you can automatically track what you are watching.

9. CucoTV (Free)

The name ZiniTevi may ring a bell for you if you are a big enthusiast of streaming video content on FireStick. The once-famous app is now down, but CucoTV, its clone, is a suitable alternative. CucoTV allows you to stream the latest movies and TV shows. It is a free app, so you can watch all of its content without paying a subscription fee.

You can watch your favorite movies and shows on CucoTV in HD quality. The app also allows downloads, so you can save content for offline viewing. Video streams do take some time to load on CucoTV. You can expect to wait for about 30 seconds to view your video. There may also be a little buffering once the streaming begins.

CucoTV has a simple, clean design and is easy to use. Other features of the app include the autoplay function, subtitling in scores of languages, and Trakt integration. With your Trakt account linked, you can synchronize your viewing history from other services and add media to your collection.

10. CineHub (Free)

CineHub is an excellent app for streaming movies and TV shows. This app is suitable for lovers of classics, popular titles, and the latest releases alike.

This streaming app's immense database of movies and series is regularly updated with the newest titles. New content is uploaded virtually every day on this app. At the same time, it has an impressive collection of Westerns, cult classics, and other obscure titles.

On CineHub, you can stream movies and TV shows in high quality. Even though the videos are in HD or higher, there is very little buffering, thanks to CineHub's quality servers.

There are multiple links for any content that you are interested in watching. That way, if a streaming link is broken, you can switch to another without having to give up streaming your movie or show. It also comes with the option to watch videos offline. While it comes with a built-in media player that offers support for several file formats, users can still use external players.

CineHub is not a paid app. FireStick users can stream on this app without having to sign up or pay a subscription.

11. BBC iPlayer (Free)

BBC iPlayer is one of the most popular streaming services in the United Kingdom. This service lets you stream almost all the BBC content including Movies, Shows, Documentaries, News, and a whole lot more. BBC itself is an incredibly popular TV network with an exciting line-up of high-quality content. This TV network delivers its content outside the UK through several streaming and broadcasting partners. However, BBC iPlayer is a one-stop shop for all things BBC.

Sadly, iPlayer is restricted to the UK. But worry not, I have covered the trick to unblock and watch BBC in any country including the USA.

12. Kodi (Free)

Kodi is an open-source application for various platforms and can be downloaded on your Amazon FireStick, Fire TV, without any additional cost. Apart from everything else which contributes to its burgeoning reputation, what catches the eye is its simple yet elegant user interface.

With a plethora of options for personal entertainment, you can choose what you like – right from music from a preorganized party playlist to viewing various TV shows. And why limit to only TV shows. You can also view full-fledged HD movies on your Amazon FireStick. Via, Kodi you'll have access to thousands of movies of almost all genres, in a single click.

Kodi has a unique feature that lets you share your photos on any other screen or digital album from your personal slideshow itself. In case you want to record your favorite TV shows, you'll have to download a PVR add-on for the app. Kodi users are advised to use a VPN due to heavy online surveillance all over the world.

13. Syncer (Free)

Syncer is a relatively new streaming app that has quickly gained popularity. It's a video-on-demand app used by tons of people because of its massive collection of movies, TV shows, documentaries, PPV replays, web series, and anime.

It also has a well-designed user interface that gives off Netflix vibes when you stream. The interface is intuitive, and you get options like a movie / TV show toggle at the top of the screen. The home screen is even customizable. Other features include subtitles, autoplay, and advanced link-filtering options.

Syncer is not a regular video-on-demand provider. It does not offer streaming links. To use the app, you will need to integrate a debrid link provider to scrape premium links. For example, you can link your Real-Debrid account to enjoy HD links. You can also integrate your Trakt account to import your watch history and lists.

14. Stremio (Free + Paid)

If you are looking for an uncomplicated way to stream your favorite movies and shows (and more), I say you give Stremio a try. In fact, ever since I started using Stremio, it has become one of my regular streaming tools. Stremio is an online media service, like Kodi, and it is also supported on a wide range of devices. But there are some clear differences.

For starters, Stremio has a much simpler and user-friendly interface. You could get started almost instantly. Additionally, Stremio installs its addons online. Meaning, the addon installation data is not stored locally. This means that when you install an addon on one device, it can be accessed from all your Stremio devices (provided you are signed in with the same account). It also means that the storage space on low-storage devices doesn't get crammed no matter how many addons you install.

Stremio supports both official and community (unofficial, third-party) addons. You can install any addon with a single click. All the supported addons are also lined up for you when you visit the addons section. You don't have to look up them manually.

15. Plex (Free + Paid)

Plex is definitely one of the best media management systems I have come across. This service converts your computer into a media hub by transforming into a Plex server and lets you access the local and online media from client apps for a wide range of devices including Amazon FireStick, Fire TV, and FireStick Lite. I find it a very handy media tool for FireStick, which has some serious storage limitations. I could download any movies and shows on my computer and play them wirelessly on my FireStick. I don't even have to be on the same Wi-Fi network to do that. Besides the local media on my computer, I can download server plugins (called Plex Channels) and gain access to unlimited online media on FireStick, Fire TV, and other client apps. Plex is mostly free and therefore I recommend it as one of the best apps for FireStick.

16. Netflix (Paid)

Netflix has aptly turned out to be a synonym for entertainment today. It is undoubtedly, one of the most widely used platforms for TV shows and Movies. And although Netflix is a paid service, it is still one of the best FireStick apps.

Arguably the best thing about Netflix is that you always get fresh content and can never get bored of it. For the lovers of “classics”, the media channel also houses lots of old TV shows, for their loyal and die-hard fans.

Once you subscribe to Netflix on your Amazon FireStick, Fire TV you can use the same account on more than one device. If you're not sure whether you should get it, just try Netflix and cancel it anytime you want (which is a seriously unlikely probability).

17. HBO Max (Paid)

HBO Max is one of the newer on-demand streaming services. However, within a short span of time, it has already acquired millions of subscribers.

With HBO Max, you can watch all your favorite HBO Originals. But, that's not it. This service also gets tons of syndicated programs and movies from popular third-party distributors. For instance, it features the ever-popular sitcoms The Big Bang Theory and Friends.

You can also stream content from several other media services including DC, Cartoon Network, Looney Tunes, and a lot more.

Go ahead and give it a try.

18. TeaTV (Free)

TeaTV came about at the same time as Terrarium TV. And, even though the latter continued to hog most of the limelight, TeaTV maintained its ground. The app, however, has gained a great deal of traction ever since the shutdown of Terrarium TV.

With a solid line-up of movies and shows and a straightforward interface, TeaTV is one of the preferred choices of many users. This lightweight app is easy to install and use.

The app used to get buggy and unstable. However, the developers got it back on its feet again with regular updates and fixes. TeaTV is presently one of the best FireStick apps for streamers.

19. Viva TV (Free)

Viva TV is a video streaming app that lets you stream hundreds of movies, TV shows, and live sports events on your FireStick device. There are many genres to choose from on this app, including action, romance, thrillers, drama, horror, and comedy. Users can also watch cartoons, anime, and Korean drama series.

You can watch movies, series, and other content on this app in HD quality and higher. The video quality goes up to 4K for some videos. When you are ready to watch a video, you get to choose from multiple streaming links that the app scrapes from host websites.

Viva TV has several cool features. It has a well-designed and intuitive user interface that makes exploring the app a breeze. There is an autoplay feature as well as the option to choose subtitle providers and adjust the subtitle text size.

Viva TV is a debrid app. For the best experience, you can integrate your Real-Debrid, AllDebrid, or Premiumize account. This will improve the quality of streaming links that you receive and will keep buffering down to a minimum. You can also integrate your Trakt account to sync your viewing history and add media.

20. Weyd (Free)

Weyd is one of few media streaming apps that were built from scratch. It is not a clone or fork of any popular streaming app. It is a new app that lets users watch movies and TV shows for free, offering a massive collection of video content to select from.

Old and newly released entertainment blockbusters are all available for enjoyment on Weyd. It scrapes streaming links with the help of plugins and link providers.

Unlike most other streaming apps, Weyd is entirely ad-free, in spite of the fact that it is free to use. This means you can enjoy all your favorite content without interference. Weyd supports the integration of premium debrid accounts like Real-Debrid, Premiumize, and AllDebrid for buffer-free streaming. It also lets you integrate your Trakt account.

Weyd offers an elegant user interface. It features a design that is eye-pleasing and newbie-friendly. The absence of ads means that the home screen and other backgrounds are clutter-free. It also means that you don't have to wait for an ad to load when you click on a movie or TV show.

21. Vudu (Free + Paid)

Launched back in 2004, Vudu is an American video store and streaming service. Vudu lets you watch movies and TV shows for free. Black cinema, Western, comedy, romance, stand-up comedy, documentaries—everything is available on Vudu for free. And the platform is 100% legal!

Vudu also supports renting and buying TV shows and movies! So, if you are looking for an all-in-one app, Vudu is one of your best bets.

22. Shudder TV (Paid)

Created by AMC Networks, this app was designed to provide fans of horror, suspense, thrillers, and supernatural fiction with all the spine-tingling content that they love. If you enjoy these genres, you'll find that Shudder TV is the perfect place to get your fix of scary movies and shows.

The app has a massive collection of horror movies that were suggested by lovers of the genre. In case the content you want isn't available, you can fill out a form to suggest movies or shows that you want to see in the line-up.

On Shudder TV, you can explore collections of hand-picked movies and series. Alternatively, you can simply plug into the linear channel and binge-watch movies to your heart's content. It has both classics and newer titles, so whatever your preference is, Shudder TV has you covered. There are more than 100 exclusives to pick from.

Shudder TV is an official app and is available on the Amazon Appstore. It is not a free app, so you have to sign up and subscribe to use this streaming service.

23. Crackle (Free)

Crackle is another free video streaming service app, from Sony Entertainment. You can easily find the best award-winning movies and TV shows in this, without any hassles.

If you are a real admirer of great works in entertainment then you should definitely register yourself on Crackle to view amazing TV shows, movies, and web series on your Amazon Fire Stick device. However, you need to create an account on Crackle to enjoy the freedom to access its content.

If you have children accessing such devices, there is always a risk of them getting exposed to some adult content, which has to be avoided at all costs. Thankfully, Crackle has also taken care of this by adding a Parental Control feature in the app, to filter the content according to age. This only adds up to the app's popularity on the Fire Stick.

25. Discovery+ (Paid)

If you are a fan of everything Discovery network has to offer, you should definitely go for Discovery Plus on FireStick.

This app contains one of the biggest collections of non-fiction content including tons of top-grade documentaries from the popular channels owned by Discovery Inc. including Animal Planet, Discovery Channel, Discovery Science, TLC, and more.

Despite offering nearly unlimited content, Discovery+ is one of the most affordable services for FireStick and other devices.

25. Pluto TV (Free)

What can be better than live TV? You may get bored of viewing the same content repeatedly on a lot of other FireStick apps, but Pluto's live TV will always have something new for you. Downloading this free application will have you enjoying live tv on your Fire Stick.

There are more than a hundred live channels for you to choose from. The channels are available in various genres, out of which the primary ones are news, sports, and entertainment. Apart from that, there are more than thousands of TV shows and movies available on the platform.

Pluto TV has a unique feature of adding a new hit movie every week for its viewers. The application is regularly updated and well maintained by the developers.

26. Paramount Plus (Paid)

Before, there was CBS All Access. Now, in its place, we have Paramount Plus. Paramount Plus is the new streaming service that has replaced Viacom's popular streaming app. It offers all the content that users could enjoy on CBS All Access, such as movies, TV shows, tons of live sporting events, and TV channels. In addition, it comes with some original content of its own.

On Paramount Plus, you can enjoy more than 12,000 TV show episodes. This includes shows that have aired on CBS, such as Hawaii Five-0 and Blue Blood. There are also tons of live sports to stream. You can watch the NFL, UEFA Champions League, Europa League, Golf Masters, college basketball, and college football.

For live TV, you can tune in to channels like CBS, BET, Comedy Central, MTV, and Nickelodeon.

Paramount Plus is an official app available on FireStick. To use it, you will be required to sign up for an account and subscribe to the service. If you had a CBS All Access account, you don't need to sign up for a new Paramount Plus account, as your old account details will do just fine.

27. Crunchyroll (Paid)

If you are a fan of Japanese anime and Asian entertainment then Crunchyroll is for you.

There are more than 25000+ episodes of different Anime series available on the platform guaranteeing a non-stop 15000+ hours of entertainment. Although most of the anime tv shows are in Japanese, Crunchyroll has a solution for you. Before broadcasting, all the shows are translated into various languages, making for uninterrupted entertainment.

All the content available on Crunchyroll is fully licensed and authenticated by the major Asian media producers. This application is not free, and you'll have to pay for the premium subscription to avail all the features. However, you can take a 14-day free trial before purchasing the premium service and in case you don't like it, the subscription can be canceled anytime.

Installation – Crunchyroll is available on the Amazon App Store. Simply go to the search icon, search it, and then follow the onscreen instructions to install it.

28. Peacock TV (Free and Paid)

Peacock TV is a multipurpose streaming service from NBC that gives you access to Live TV as well as on-demand movies and shows.

This service lets you watch all the original programming of NBC. You will also find dozens of syndicated TV shows and documentaries. In addition, the app also features tons of movies.

Peacock TV offers a free plan with limited content. If you want to unlock the entire catalog of content, you can buy the Premium or Premium+ plans.

The app offers plenty to explore and watch. Give it a try.

29. Hulu (Paid)

Hulu is an American streaming service that offers a huge library of content. Whether you are looking for Hulu Originals or content copyrighted from other services, you will find tons of exciting options.

In addition to on-demand services, Hulu also offers a Live TV package that gives you access to more than 65 cable TV channels.

You can also choose a bundled plan that clubs Hulu, Disney+, and ESPN+ together.

Hulu has become incredibly popular in the past few years. It is also one of the most downloaded apps on FireStick.

30. OneBox HD (Free)

OneBox HD has been one of the most popular third-party apps for Android devices. It is still one of the first choices of mobile users looking for free entertainment. The earlier versions of OneBox HD did not offer FireStick remote compatibility. However, the latest software updates to the app have made it completely remote-friendly.

While OneBox HD continues to provide quality streaming links (and that's why it is on this list of best apps for FireStick), it has some shortcomings we couldn't overlook. It is updated with the new content, but the main screen does not feature any of it. You need to search for them manually. The app has also not been updated for quite some time. You may still try OneBox HD, but there are other better options you will find right on this list.

31. FreeFlix HQ (Free)

FreeFlix HQ lets you access tons of multimedia content on your Amazon Fire devices. Be it a TV series or a famous movie, the FreeFlix HQ catalog has everything! And it's all absolutely free!

FreeFlix HQ has a straightforward interface. You can search for content or browse separate tabs for movies, TV shows, etc., using filters. To keep the free content running smoothly for its users, the FreeFlix HQ team regularly updates the app. You'll be surprised by the value it provides.

32. Disney+ Hotstar (Paid)

Formerly Hotstar, Disney+ Hotstar is an Indian subscription VOD streaming service. Disney+ Hotstar is owned by Star India and currently has around 28.5 million paid users.

With the latest movies, TV shows, live sports, Disney+ content, and more, Disney+ Hotstar has more than 100,000 hours of content in 17 languages. Although it's a paid subscription service, it's quite affordable in the US, India, and all other regions it supports.

33. Tubi (Free)

Tubi is a free movie streaming app for FireStick. It operates similarly to Netflix by giving you access to a large library of on-demand movies, series, TV shows, and documentaries. Besides being a free app, Tubi also allows you to watch all of its content without even creating an account on the app.

Tubi updates its database with new content every week. Its range of content includes movies, series, sitcoms, animes, and kids' shows. As you would expect, the fact that Tubi is free for all to use comes with a downside. Tubi is ridden with ads, which can get a little annoying. You'll have to sit through a short ad each time you watch something.

Tubi is only available in the US. However, this isn't a problem, even for people living elsewhere. Thanks to virtual private networks (VPNs), users from all around the world can access location-specific content from almost anywhere in the world.

34. SonyLIV (Free + Paid)

Owned by Sony Pictures Network India, SonyLIV is an Indian general entertainment streaming platform. On SonyLIV, you can watch TV shows, movies, and sports for free! But, the free plan doesn't give you access to the premium content.

To access premium content, you have to pay. Paying gives you access to the latest international shows, TV channels, live sports like FA Cup, UEFA Champions League, and WWE events, and much more.

The official SonyLIV app is available on the Amazon Appstore, so you don't have to worry about downloading it from a third-party APK provider.

35. Viki (Free + Paid)

Want to enjoy Asian shows and movies for free from other regions of the world? Viki's got your back! Powered by Rakuten, Viki has Korean dramas, Chinese dramas, K-pop, and more.

Viki is a freemium service officially available on the Amazon Appstore (in supported regions). Although Viki is a free streaming service, you can unlock additional content and watch ad-free with a Viki Pass.

36. Boomerang (Paid)

Boomerang is a popular cartoon channel that has been around for decades. It is also now available on the Amazon FireStick. If you have kids and own a FireStick, this app is just right for you.

But Boomerang is not simply an esoteric app for little kids alone. It contains content that can be enjoyed by people of all ages. It gives you access to all the classic

Boomerang shows like The Flintstones, Scooby-Doo, Tom and Jerry, Bugs Bunny, and The Smurfs. There is also a suite of new cartoons for premium family entertainment.

Boomerang comes with a 7-day free trial, but you will need to pay a subscription fee to continue accessing it after that. A monthly subscription is available for $4.99.

37. UK Turks (Free)

UK Turks is a free streaming app that gives you access to endless hours of movies, TV shows, live TV, and other video entertainment. UK Turks has one of the broadest categorizations I have seen in a video streaming app. Besides the traditional categories available on most streaming platforms, UK Turks also offers special categories for its users, like Concerts, Standup Comedy Specials, Cartoons, Sports TV, Documentaries, and even Radio.

The UK Turks app has a great user interface and delivers a good user experience. All the streamable content on the app is well-labeled, neatly organized, and properly categorized into multiple sub-categories.

38. Rokkr (Free)

Rokkr serves the same purpose as many best FireStick apps on this list: allowing you to stream movies and TV series. Rokkr is not officially available to download in the Amazon Appstore and therefore requires being sideloaded from a third-party site. But once you get the app, it opens a world of diverse entertainment channels, including channels based in the US.

This app is free to use and does not offer any subscriptions. The app is essentially a browser, giving you access to streams of your favorite movies and shows. To get direct access to the best content, you will need to install a few additional resources.

Rokkr might be great, but it has one downside to it, which is that many of its movies and series are only available in standard definition. This means that you'll have to settle for watching your favorite TV shows and movies in lower quality than you may be used to.

39. IMDb TV (Free)

IMDb is owned by Amazon. This media house allows Amazon FireStick users to access IMDb TV for free. IMDb TV gives you access to officially licensed movies and series from many of the top production companies in the US. Some of these big media names are Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer (MGM), Sony, and Warner Bros Studio. Some of the popular titles on IMDb TV are The Desperate Housewives, Lost, and Ally McBeal.

IMDb TV is only available in the US. However, thanks to virtual private networks (VPNs), you don't have to worry about geographical limitations. With a VPN, you can access geographically restricted content from almost anywhere in the world. This means that even from a country in the Middle East, you could watch IMDb TV on your Amazon FireStick. VPNs allow you to access internet servers in another country, meaning that you can get access to content that is localized to that particular country.

40. VRV (Free + Paid)

VRV is an interesting application. It does not give you access to every possible genre of movies and series like other FireStick apps do. Instead, it gives you access to specific types of content. Its dominant niches are animes, cartoons, tech shows, and science fiction. While it has content from other genres, the aforementioned ones constitute the bulk of the content available on VRV.

VRV also has a personal watchlist feature. In just the same way that music streaming platforms allow you to create personalized playlists of your favorite songs, VRV lets you make playlists for HD video content. You can curate personalized watchlists on the app according to your taste.

VRV's major selling point is its enormous repository of anime, making it the perfect for anime lovers. VRV makes some gaming content available to you as well. And all of this is available in HD, with the only downside being the presence of ads. If you do not want the ads to appear, you can pay for premium access.

41. Typhoon TV (No longer available)

Update: Typhoon TV has been shut down

Typhoon TV is a streaming application for free movies and TV shows. It is the clone of the once very popular Terrarium TV.

You can browse Typhoon TV for hundreds of movies and shows, including the latest ones. The app is fetching lots of high-quality streams from various reliable sources. It also works great with the premium link generator Real Debrid.

Typhoon TV has a remote-friendly interface and offers smooth navigation on FireStick. It lets you quickly find the content you want to watch by several categories and filters.

If you are looking for quality on-demand streaming, give Typhoon TV a try.

42. Morphix TV

Update: If Morphix TV doesn't work, please try other FireStick apps on this list

Morphix TV is a clone of the popular app Morph TV. Even though the app is still in the development phase, I decided to include it on this list of best apps for FireStick. That's because it offers a wide range of movie titles and allows one-click playback. It has a section for TV-Shows. However, it is still offline as I write this.

Morphix TV is a small-sized app that works smoothly on FireStick as well as Android TV devices. It has a remote-friendly app allowing easy navigation on the big screen. Give it a try.

43. Morph TV (Free)

Update: Morph TV may not pull any streaming links at this time. Please explore other FireStick apps on this list.

Even though the very popular Morpheus TV is all but defunct, its clone Morph TV is rapidly gaining a good reputation among the streamers. You may still install Morpheus TV and use the existing content library, it no longer gets any new updates. On the other hand, Morph TV has the support of an active team of developers. The software upgrades are regular and the media collection is constantly refurnished with new movies and TV shows.

Morph TV has an unsophisticated interface allowing you to get started without having to go through any learning curve. The app scrapes quality streams. However, I miss Real-Debrid support. I hope it is added soon in one of the future software updates.

44. UnlockMyTV (Free)

Update: UnlockMyTv may not work at this moment

UnlockMyTV is a great option to watch your favorite movies and shows currently. The media library is strong and regularly updated with new content. You will find almost all the new movies and shows.

What I really like about this app is its ability to scrape superior-quality streaming links from a variety of sources. I was impressed to see several 1080p streams. And, there are barely any dead links. Almost everything works here.

Best FireStick Apps for Sports / Live TV

*Best
Sports*

45. Sling TV (Paid)

Sling TV was the first live TV launched on the internet and should be among your very first choices if you're fond of live TV channels. However, this service is only available in the USA so you need to use a VPN to access it elsewhere.

Most of the live video streaming services charge more than $40 for the same features that you can get just for $20 per month with Sling TV. The only concern is that you need a proper internet connection in order to enjoy uninterrupted live streaming services.

The only restriction is that if you opt for the cheapest pack, you won't be able to stream on more than one screen at a time. In case you're logged in with more than one device, it will automatically ask for the single device you want to view the channels with, upon starting.

46. OLA TV (Free)

If you are a cord-cutter and like to watch TV channels on FireStick, OLA TV would probably be one of your first choices.

This app offers a massive collection of satellite channels and dozens of them are in English from the USA, UK, and Canada. You are likely to find all your favorite channels on Ola TV.

The app lines up almost all the channel categories on its home screen. You may find multiple categories for a country. That's because Ola TV streams channels from multiple servers. Just pick a category and choose the channel you want to watch.

Ola TV has also upgraded its interface and is now fully compatible with remote navigation. If you are into live TV streaming, Ola TV is one app you must definitely have.

47. Live NetTV (Free)

Live NetTV lets you watch many of your favorite satellite channels for free. With a big roundup of the US, UK, and international channels and FireStick friendly interface, this app is definitely one of the best options to watch live TV.

There are various categories to stream the TV channels from including Sports, Entertainment, TV Shows, Movies, Lifestyle, Kids, and more. The app also added the video-on-demand section for movies and TV shows. The on-demand section offers limited content but is expected to expand in the future.

48. Tea Sports Live (Free)

There are lots of apps available for the FireStick that you can watch live sports on. Most of those apps allow you to watch a variety of sports on them. Tea Sport Live is different. In spite of its name, this FireStick app is a specialized one. If you are a huge fan of soccer, Tea Sport Live is the perfect solution for you.

Tea Sport Live allows soccer fans to stream a huge range of soccer games live. Its menu is comprehensive, covering most of the major soccer leagues, including those in England, Italy, Spain, Germany, and France. That's not all. Fans can also follow major continental tournaments like those in Europe.

Apart from live streaming, users of Tea Sport Live can watch replays of soccer matches that they could not watch live. In addition, there are match highlights and analyses, ensuring that fans get the full experience of any match they are interested in. They can also check daily matchup lists and schedules of upcoming matches.

For soccer live streaming, replays, highlights, analysis, statistics, and details, Tea Sport Live is one of the best apps that you can get.

49. VUit (Free)

If you are in the United States, VUit can be your home for local live TV on FireStick. While there are tons of IPTV apps that let users stream national and international TV channels, there are very few that let them access local TV. These include fuboTV and Hulu, but the difference between VUit and these apps is that VUit is entirely free of charge.

The app currently offers hundreds of local TV channels. As a result, you can follow local news, events, weather reports, documentaries, podcasts, and sports without having to pay a subscription fee. In addition, because of its partnership with a number of local TV stations, you can also watch exclusive and original content on VUit.

On FireStick, you can manually change the video resolution depending on your preference. The media provided on VUit is available in up to HD quality.

VUit does not make it mandatory for users to create an account to stream content on the service. It is an official app available for download in the Amazon Appstore.

50. Stremium (Free + Paid)

Stremium was formerly called FitzyTV. It is a free app that lets users stream live TV on a range of Android devices, from the NVIDIA SHIELD to the FireStick. Basically, Stremium allows you to explore and watch live TV on more than 70 TV channels while turning your FireStick into a DVR.

On the Stremium app, you can record video content, schedule recordings, and view the upcoming programs on your favorite channels. Stremium allows you to access and log into your already-existing cable, satellite, or streaming TV packages. All the channels in your package are curated into a simple guide.

The only free parts of Stremium are lots of internet-based channels, with more being added all the time. The other channels on the app come from a channel provider. Once you have connected to your provider, you can record any shows or content that you are interested in with the DVR feature.

Stremium requires that you register before you can use the app on your FireStick. After installing and launching the app, you will be given a code. You must submit this code on Stremium's official website. Once you link the app, you can add your TV provider to access the live TV

51. USTVNOW (Free + Paid)

Officially designed for the US military and US citizens abroad, USTVNOW is a free or paid streaming service. With the six-month free plan, you can watch hundreds of classic movies anytime on any device, like an Amazon FireStick or an Android phone.

After that, you are required to purchase a subscription. There are two subscriptions available, TELEUP PLUS+DVR or USTVNOW. Both plans give you access to live TV and movies on demand. Be it live TV channels, TV shows, or movies, USTVNOW has you covered.

Installation: USTVNOW isn't officially available on the Amazon Appstore, but you can download the APK file via any third-party APK distributor.

52. Redbox TV (Free)

Redbox TV APK is another fabulous Live TV application for FireStick and other Android devices. This app has a big collection of satellite TV channels. It lets you stream TV from various countries and regions. The easy to use interface lets you get started instantly. Just click the country/region tab on the top and explore the list of available channels. It is that easy. You will find free to stream channels from the USA, Canada, UK, and other parts of the world. The app also lets you favorite the channels you watch frequently. If you like to watch Live TV on FireStick, Redbox TV APK is a must-try app.

53. Sportz TV IPTV (Paid)

Sportz TV IPTV app brings to you a whole host of content from Live TV to on-demand movies and shows, all in one place. Even though Sportz TV is a paid app, it is any day better than the many free, unreliable streaming FireStick apps. And, for what it offers, it is worth every bit spent. You can get started for as low as $14.95 per month. Yes, that's the price you pay for more than 8000 live TV channels and tons of movies and shows. This is nearly the same price many pay to subscribe to a single traditional TV channel.

The app is well maintained, offers high-quality streaming (up to 1080p), and has a user-friendly interface. Go ahead and try it now!

54. SPB TV World (Free)

SPB TV World will turn your Amazon FireStick into a real satellite TV! By installing SPB TV World on your FireStick, you can enjoy over 200 TV channels in different languages.

SPB TV World doesn't require you to pay a fee or register an account. You just need to download the application, wait for it to install, and open it to enjoy over 200 free live TV channels in good quality.

To provide free TV channels legally, SPB TV World runs ads. But it hardly affects your watching experience. To join the fun, download the SPV TV World app for free today on your FireStick.

55. ThopTV (Free)

When it comes to finding a free alternative for websites like Netflix, Jio TV, etc., there aren't many options that match up to the standards of ThopTV. ThopTV is a free app that lets you enjoy streaming thousands of international channels, the latest TV shows, sports matches, and more, all for free.

ThopTV has many competitors, but not a single one provides the convenience, features, and reliability of ThopTV. Give ThopTV a try and you may forget about all the other options.

Installation: ThopTV isn't available on the Amazon Appstore. But you can download it for free from any APK provider on the internet to enjoy live TV, movies, shows, and more on your Amazon FireStick.

56. Exodus Live TV (Paid)

Exodus is a paid streaming app on FireStick. It gives you access to almost 900 live TV channels from the US, the UK, and many other regions. The best part? Exodus Live TV offers all of these channels in full HD resolution.

Exodus Live TV gives you access to a diverse range of content, like sports, movies, series, music videos, religious channels, documentaries, and kids' shows. Exodus

Live TV makes this possible by having a dedicated team of stream miners who are constantly in search of the best streamable content on the internet.

Exodus Live TV's operations are perfectly summed up by its description of itself: It is the work of "TV fanatics that search the internet daily for Live TV Streams and share these streams with each other."

Exodus Live TV stands out from the competition because it enables you to stream HD (720p and 1080p) content without buffering. Any person with a decent internet connection can enjoy Exodus Live TV in high definition.

But all of this comes at a small price. Users who want access to the app's services must pay a subscription fee. There are three options: a monthly plan, a yearly plan, and a lifetime plan. These cost $5.99, $49.99, and $99.99, respectively.

57. TVTap (Free)

TV Tap is a live TV app with a solid lineup of satellite channels from all around the world including the USA, UK, Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and more. TV Tap has a dedicated APK for FireStick, customized for remote-control and bigger screen of a TV. The user interface is simple and rather easy to use. However, it could have been better by making the channel icons on the main screen a bit smaller.

You can watch all sorts of channels in various categories including Entertainment, Movies, News, Music, Sports, Food, Kids, and documentaries. The app also lets you filter channels by country/region. I wish more channels streamed in HD. Yet, TV Tap is a decent Live TV app for FireStick. Give it a try!

58. Players Klub IPTV (Paid)

The Players Klub IPTV is another quality IPTV service. It gives you access to more than 2000 TV channels. While most channels are from the USA, you can also watch plenty of TV channels from countries like Australia, the UK, Canada, and more.

This IPTV service comes at an affordable price of $8 per month. Given the fact that it has a huge collection of channels and all streams at high-quality, I would say it is a pretty amazing deal.

While Players Klub IPTV is primarily a live TV app, it also has a decent on-demand section with dozens of movies and TV shows for your streaming delight. Unlike a lot of free FireStick apps, Players Klub IPTV offers a more reliable and higher quality video playback.

The Players Klub IPTV has an Android app you can install on FireStick. The app is completely remote-compatibility, allowing easy handling and navigation. The service also offers a Kodi addon, which you can again use on FireStick through Kodi. However, the Android app seemingly works better on FireStick than the addon. Of course, the addon makes Players Klub IPTV a multiplatform service.

59. HD Streamz (Free)

HD Streamz is yet another free Live TV app that finds its way to our collection of top apps for FireStick. This app features hundreds of free satellite channels from the USA, UK, and several other countries. Even though the interface of the app leaves a bit to be desired, it is still a good option considering its live TV section. You will also notice that the app has Radio and On-Demand tabs. But, they don't have enough content. Use this app for Live TV streaming.

60. Swift Streamz (Free)

Are you a television freak? Then Swift Streamz is one of the best apps you can have in your Amazon FireStick library. Swift Streamz lets you watch over 700+ HD channels from around the world. Although Swift Streamz is a relatively new application in the IPTV space, it has become quite popular.

Some quality features of the Swift Streamz app are playback in multiple players, DLNA support, and compatibility with Android devices like FireStick. With over 700 channels, super speedy streaming, and an intuitive interface, Swift Streamz will make your IPTV experience worthwhile.

61. ESPN for Fire TV (Paid)

Whether you love any particular sport or like to view sports for just killing some time, you should have ESPN on your Amazon Firestick. ESPN not only provides live streaming of sports but you can opt for an on-demand service as well.

Hundreds of sporting events are covered by ESPN and all of them can be available on your Fire TV. For this, you just have to choose the sport or event you desire to view and purchase the passes for it. If the event lasts for more than a day then you can also purchase passes on a monthly or yearly basis (like the Premier League).

ESPN for Fire TV service is available in the United States and many other parts of the world. From NCAA college sports events to races from the Indy Car series, there are a plethora of options available for viewing and entertainment purposes. You can also avail of a 7-day full trial but after the seventh day, you'll be charged based on the plan you initially chose, unless you cancel the services.

62. Fox Now (Free + Paid)

Fox is a very popular entertainment channel and is home to legendary shows like The Simpsons. Fox Now is a subsidiary of Fox media and it gives you access to the best Fox shows live and on-demand. Fox Now gives you access to not only the best of Fox shows but also news programs and sports games.

If you own a FireStick, you may be able to access the Fox Now app for free. The free version of the Fox Now app is only compatible with and available on Fire TVs and FireSticks that run on the Fire OS 5 operating system or a later version. Users who do not meet these requirements will have to pay a subscription fee to use Fox Now.

63. DAZN (Paid)

A UK-based sports streaming service, DAZN allows you to watch sports events from around the world. DAZN is a live and on-demand video service. On this app, you can tune in to thousands of live sports events every year. Its broadcasts cover a wide range of sports tournaments and competitions.

DAZN shines when it comes to combat sports. The streaming service struck a game-changing deal with Matchroom Boxing, which granted it the rights to stream several live boxing bouts in the UK annually. You can watch many other boxing and MMA fights live on DAZN. Live viewing aside, you can find the archived fights of lots of great boxers on this app.

You can view match schedules to keep up to date with upcoming events. To ensure that you never miss an event, you can set reminders on the app and receive notifications.

DAZN is a paid app with options for both monthly and annual subscriptions. Currently, the service is only supported in Canada, Austria, Germany, Italy, and Japan. If you reside outside any of these countries but are interested in enjoying events that DAZN offers on your FireStick, you can use a VPN.

64. CBS Sports (Paid)

CBS Sports is the sports arm of the US-based TV network CBS. On the CBS Sports app on FireStick, you can get front row access to several sports events across a wide range of competitions.

The app lets you catch up with games from the NFL, PGA Tour, PGA Championship, the Masters Tournament, WNBA, NCAA Basketball, Bellator MMA, and many others. CBS Sports also streams the MLB, NFL, NBA, and NHL drafts. If you are a soccer fan, you can watch games in the largest continental soccer tournaments, the UEFA Champions League and Europa League.

Besides live sports events, you also get to watch sports news, replays, highlights, pregame analysis, and postgame reviews. Sports betting fans can tune in for dedicated expert betting advice on a wide range of sports.

If you have a Paramount Plus subscription, you can integrate it into this app to stream Paramount Plus exclusives, such as the Brasileirão Série A and Argentina's Liga Profesional de Fútbol.

CBS Sports is an official app and is available for download on the Appstore. The app itself is free, but you need to log in with a TV provider or a CBS subscription to access most of the content.

65. Fox Sports (Paid)

Fox Sports has been around for quite a long time. A quarter of a decade, in fact. With its FireStick app, sports lovers can tune in to Fox Sports broadcasts on their smart TVs. The hugely popular sports hub allows live streaming of sports events including games from the NFL, MLB, NASCAR, golf, tennis, NCAA football, NCAA basketball, WWE, boxing, and soccer.

Fans can also keep up to date on their favorite sports teams and personalities with the regular news and updates that the app provides. For upcoming games, they can peruse game details, statistics, and other information. The live TV schedule shows sports matches up to 7 days before they start. Highlights and replays are offered in case you miss an event.

Fox Sports is an official app available in the Amazon Appstore. It requires users to sign up for a Fox Sports profile and connect a TV provider before they can use the app to watch sports. Also, it is geo-restricted to the United States. As a result, FireStick users who live outside the US will not be able to stream sports matches on the app without the aid of a VPN.

66. Philo (Paid)

Philo is a live TV streaming app that lets you watch cable TV at only a fraction of regular cable TV prices. For a budget-friendly fee, the app gives you unrestricted access to a large library of high-quality channels. More than 60 channels are offered, along with an unlimited amount of DVR storage.

The channels that you can stream on Philo include AMC, Discovery, Nickelodeon, Food Network, Comedy Central, Animal Planet, BBC America, Crackle, and BET. There are premium addons for Starz and Epix channel packages.

Unfortunately, there's a catch. There is no local channel coverage or sports channels for sports. Also, Philo is not the best option if you're big on news. Still, there is a healthy range of channels and categories covered by the app.

Philo is a strong option for users who like to record movies, shows, and other content to watch later on. As I mentioned, it comes with a DVR feature that permits unlimited recording to the cloud, so you can record as many movies and shows as you like without having to fear that you'll run out of storage space. The recordings can be stored on the cloud for up to a year for free.

67. Amazon News (Free)

The Amazon News app on Fire TV devices is a free, customizable app that makes it easy for FireStick and other Fire TV users to watch news content. It aggregates news from multiple news providers into a single app, ensuring that users can stay updated on the current events that they care about.

On the News app, you can watch news clips and get live feeds from several popular news providers, such as Reuters, Huff Post, CBS News, ABC News, and Yahoo. In total, the app has more than 120 channels, covering local, national, and international news. It is available in 88 major cities across the United States, including New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Atlanta, and Dallas.

The app lets you customize your news experience to your taste. It automatically detects the metro region that is closest to you and lets you select from the news sources that are closest to that area. You can create a playlist of the new sources that you prefer, and this playlist will be updated regularly with the latest news in current events, entertainment, sports, business, and politics.

The Amazon News app comes with Alexa integration. If you have a FireStick with Alexa Voice Remote, you just need to say "Alexa, play local news" to access the latest news from your Amazon News feed.

68. Tubox TV (Free)

Tubox TV is a relatively new app for streaming live TV on FireStick and other Android devices. It comes with more than 100 live TV channels covering a wide range of categories. The major channels include ABC News, CBS News, Cheddar News, WWE Network, The Weather Channel, and Fubo Sports. Most of the other channels are Spanish-speaking. This is something to take note of if you are a native English speaker.

Tubox TV has an easy-to-use interface. It comes with a guide that provides information about all the live channels on the app. You can switch between live channels and on-demand content pretty easily. It also offers a speed test feature that lets you test your internet performance. While it is a free app sustained by ads, the ads on Tubox TV are minimal.

The video quality on this app is top-notch. Most of the content can be viewed in HD, with up to 1080p resolution for some videos and channels. Streaming is largely reliable too, and you will experience little to no buffering as you stream. Tubox TV is 100% legal and can be downloaded directly from the Amazon Appstore.

69. Distro TV (Free)

A live TV streaming app with an extensive library of video-on-demand content, Distro TV puts a hub of entertainment at your fingertips. On Distro TV, you can access more than 150 channels with a diverse range of content, including movies, TV shows, documentaries, comedy, lifestyle, sports, music, news, and more.

The live TV channels in its long lineup include Law & Crime, Reelz, Magellan TV, Bloomberg, People TV, Quello, TD Ameritrade Network, Humor Mill, Euronews, and others. There are also Spanish-speaking channels in the lineup. For on-demand content, you get to choose from a much smaller library of movies and TV shows.

The Distro TV app for FireStick is visually appealing and easy to use. It lets you quickly switch between live TV and on-demand content. The live TV channels are grouped under different tabs according to their category, so you can switch between those as well.

Distro TV is an official Amazon app. It also has an addon for Kodi. Both the app and addon are free.

70. Haystack TV (Free)

To get all the news that matters to you delivered in one place, Haystack TV (or Haystack News) may just be the app for you. It's the perfect solution for cord-cutters to get high-quality news, whether it's local, national, or international.

The coverage of this app is simply massive, as it currently offers more than 300 news channels, putting all your favorite topics and sources right at your fingertips. The channels include ABC News, CBS, Euronews, Newsmax, Yahoo Finance, CNET, Newsy, Al Jazeera, and many more.

Haystack TV lets you search for topics that are trending worldwide in any news category. Its news coverage stretches across current affairs, entertainment, business, sports, social, political, and global news. It offers both live streaming and on-demand news.

When you launch the app on your FireStick, you will see news stories pulled in from different sources to create a playlist for you. You may stick with that pre-arranged playlist or create your own. Alternatively, you may simply switch between different news categories, exploring various sources on your own. You can explore news sources even while a news video is playing. Plus, the app makes it easy to flip between channels.

In full-screen mode, there's a news ticker at the bottom of the screen. If you click on a story on the ticker, it switches you to the corresponding video.

Haystack News is a free service that is ad-supported. It is an official app available in the Amazon Appstore.

71. Local Now (Free)

Local Now is a US-based IPTV service that provides users with free news, movies, TV shows, documentaries, traffic reports, and weather reports. It is owned by The Weather Group. Initially, Local Now focused entirely on local news and weather reports through its partnership with several news channels. However, it has now expanded to offer other content that goes beyond news.

Like the name implies, you're not going to find a lot of global news on this platform. The app targets localized content, with a Local Now channel for every zip code in the US.

With its expansion to include movies, shows, and other content, you can now stream from platforms like Lionsgate, Maverick, Sonar, and Gravitas. Thousands of movies and shows can be streamed on the Local Now app. For viewers only interested in the news, there is a handy filter aptly called "NEWS" that aggregates the news sources.

72. Locast (Free)

Locast is a non-profit service that streams television over the internet for free. If you live in or around the 31 cities where Locast operates, you can gain access to a variety of local TV channels for free without needing an antenna or cable. You could also use a VPN to set your location to a nearby metropolis.

This streaming app requires that you create a free account on its website before you can use it. On the site, you are given an activation code. You can watch directly on the website or you can download the FireStick app. Either way, you get online access to local broadcasts.

As you can imagine, Locast is not the ideal option if you want an IPTV app that lets you watch channels from anywhere. It doesn't have on-demand content either, instead focusing entirely on live TV.

The Locast app for FireStick has a simple and efficient user interface. There is a TV Guide that lists all the local channels in your area, as well as program names and details for each channel. You can stream in high quality, and you will find the streams reliable. Locast depends on donations to operate, so expect a short ad about making a donation before you can watch a channel.

Locast is a legal app that can be downloaded on the Amazon Appstore.

73. AOS TV (Free)

This app is currently unavailable!!!

Want access to an immeasurable library of your favorite movies, TV channels, and news? Then, the AOS TV app will win you over. Cartoons, IPTV, movies, music, and more: AOS TV covers a wide range of entertainment sources.

The AOS TV app is packed with great features. With the filter option, AOS TV lets you find content by country, and the search option enables you to find anything in a snap. All in all, AOS TV is one of the best free live TV and media streaming applications available right now.

74. Mobdro (Free)

Update: Mobdro has been shut down and is no longer available. But there are several others you can try out.

If you like watching sports and at the same time don't want to spend a penny for that then Mobdro is the right Fire Stick app for you. Don't look for this app on the Amazon App Store because it can only be downloaded from Mobdro's official website. If you are a Kodi user, you can install it on Kodi itself.

Once you download this application and run it on your Fire TV, you'll notice that Mobdro keeps on searching free video streaming around the globe and sends it directly to your device, making it a very useful tool in the said regard.

You can enjoy the free streaming service for as long as you want, but if you wish to remove unnecessary bulky ads then you have to purchase a premium account. With a premium subscription, you can not only enjoy ad-free entertainment but also capture and download the live streaming videos and store them for later viewing.

Best FireStick Apps for News

75. Sky News (Paid)

Watching the news on a regular basis keeps you updated in this fast-moving world. And what's better than having that luxury on your Amazon Fire TV as well? Well, one of the most popular 24-hour news channels, Sky News have also made its app available for the Fire TV Stick.

Sky News gives you access to information about all the important kinds of stuff and events happening in the world. You can enjoy 24×7 streaming of news reports on the app. The best part is that the breaking news will always be at the forefront of your viewing so that you don't miss any updates. (However, there are chances that you might get sick of continuous weather reporting.)

One thing is for sure that, unlike CBS and NBC, Sky News doesn't run the same old news again and again. There'll always be some or the other type of fresh content for you. But Sky News is not free, and you need to purchase a premium version to avail all these features.

Installation – Sky News is available on the Amazon App Store. Simply go to the search icon, search it, and then follow the onscreen instructions to install it.

76. BBC News (Paid)

BBC News is one of the top apps for FireStick. In the world of News and Information, BBC, an acronym for British Broadcasting Corporation is a brand. It provides genuine news without any fabrication. Arguably the primary reason why most of us blindly trust BBC is due to its huge network of trustworthy journalists and their reach to every nook and corner of the world. And now this is available on your Amazon Fire TV as well.

Through BBC News, you can not only view live streaming videos but can even browse news articles and read them on your device. BBC News covers almost all sections of News including entertainment, business, health, and lifestyle. It could be a real time saver if you wish to read the fresh content always and don't have to go searching for it every time.

Also, there are no commercials or ads to interrupt your viewing experiences. Videos are stacked up in autoplay mode, so you need to switch to other news videos manually.

Installation – BBC News is available on the Amazon App Store. Simply go to the search icon, search it, and then follow the onscreen instructions to install it.

Best Fire TV Stick Apps for Music

*Best
Apps for Music*

77. YouTube (Free)

YouTube is one of the primary entertainment platforms on the internet and most of us are quite addicted to it. Since we are accustomed to using YouTube on our smartphones and PC, just imagine how would it look on a bigger HD screen?

Well, YouTube is one of the must-have FireStick apps for your Amazon device and can directly be downloaded from the Amazon App Store itself. Playing your favorite music on the channel or exploring the new releases, all of this is possible on the Amazon Fire TV as well. Additionally, you can also create a music playlist comprising of your favorite songs and play them whenever you want.

Just like the web version, the YouTube app for the Fire Stick is also free. If you want to get rid of intermittent commercials, you can buy the YouTube Premium Subscription.

78. Twitch (Free)

Like YouTube, Twitch is also a free platform for listening to music or viewing content. But twitch has a certain turn to it. Apart from viewing content, you can also contribute content. Unique, isn't it?

With the Twitch app, you can not only view any content but can also stream your own content. Also, unlike other video streaming applications available for Fire Stick, here you can find live streaming of video games as well (now that's something totally cool). If you like a certain video or streaming, you can support and help your favorite streamers to get rewards and recognition by increasing the views, subscribing, and cheering with Bits.

You can even earn money as a streamer on Twitch by signing up for the Affiliate program. If you are a gamer and love to make some quick bucks, you just need to sign-up to become a verified Twitch partner and earn by broadcasting yourself playing.

To install Twitch on FireStick, simply go to the “Search” icon and type “Twitch.” When the app name pops up in the search results, open and install it.

79. Spotify (Free)

If you are an all-time music lover, then Spotify should be a household name for you. Once you download Spotify on your Amazon Firestick, you get instant access to millions of songs, as soon as you log in to your account.

You can also use a single Spotify account to play music on different devices by using the same Wi-Fi network. To select music from a playlist, you can simply use your mobile phone and then synchronize it with your Amazon Fire TV to set up the mood or to get in the groove.

Unlike various online music streaming FireStick apps, Spotify would not irritate you with unwanted advertisements between the music playlist. You also get an option to download your favorite music and listen to it afterward.

To install Spotify, simply go to the “Search” icon and type “Spotify.” When the app name pops up in the search results, open and install it.

Utility Apps for FireStick

*Best
Utility
Apps*

80. Downloader (Free)

For any platform, you must have utility applications pre-installed to do any task. Utility Applications form the soul of a device and Downloader is one such utility application, you must have on your Amazon Firestick.

Whether you want to sideload an application or save your favorite music video, you will always need a downloader application to accomplish the task. The other implication is that without a downloader, you would not get enough download speed and might end up wasting lots of time. Due to the poor internet connection at times, your downloading might also get stalled and result in corrupted files.

To prevent this, the downloader app for Fire Stick lets you immediately pause the process and resume it when you are on a good network. This not only helps you to systemize the files you want to download but also prevents them from corruption.

81. Mouse Toggle (Free)

FireStick and Fire TV devices run on the modified Android operating system. They also use the APK as the executable files, just like the Android mobiles. This makes a lot of people assume that all the app that works on Android mobiles would also work on FireStick. But, that's not always the case.

Mobiles employ a touch interface, while FireStick has a remote-controlled interface. While there are many Android apps that are both touch and remote-friendly, many are not. Even if you install apps on FireStick that are not remote-friendly, you may not be able to interact with them. As a result, you miss out on some great Android apps.

Thankfully, there is a workaround called Mouse Toggle that lets you use just about any Android app on FireStick. Mouse Toggle app spawns a mouse pointer on your FireStick screen. You can maneuver the mouse pointer with the navigation keys on the remote. However, the mouse pointer can reach those sections of certain apps, which your FireStick remote cannot. This makes Mouse Toggle one of the must-have FireStick apps for your device.

Mouse toggle works on All Fire TV devices including, FireStick Lite, FireStick 4K, and Fire TV Cube.

82. Browser (Free)

A browser is undoubtedly one of the best FireStick apps. There are various applications that are very useful but cannot be downloaded from the Play store. In such a case, you'll need to visit their official website if you wish to download it on your device. To access these websites, you'll need a browser.

The browser serves as a multifunctional application. Some of the best FireStick apps like YouTube and Spotify have online platforms that can be accessed through a browser and a swift internet connection, without downloading or installing them.

The browser saves your time and space by eliminating the requirement of installing third-party applications that you need to sideload on the Amazon Fire TV. Along with applications, you can also view your other favorite websites in HD quality on a bigger and better screen.

To install your favorite browser on Fire Stick, go to the “Search” icon and type the name of your browser such as “Silk.” When the app name appears in search results, open and install it.

83. Video & TV Cast (Free)

Video & TV Cast has to work in sync with an Android or iOS device, which is the major drawback of this app. You cannot use the app on your FireStick without first downloading the app on a smart Android or iOS device. Besides this little inconvenience, it is a great app overall and provides a lot of utility for movie and TV lovers.

Video & TV Cast comes with a built-in browser that is designed to let you search the internet for movie and TV show streams to watch on their FireStick, Android, or iOS device. Video & TV Cast also offers versatility. Not only can you use the app to search for and watch video streams online, but it also doubles as a media player.

You can use Video & TV Cast to watch videos from your Android or iOS device's gallery and camera roll. Video & TV Cast is one of the free and best FireStick Apps.

84. Allcast (Free)

Allcast is a utility app that lets you screencast. Installing the app on your mobile device and your FireStick allows you to cast the screen of your Android or iOS phone or tablet to your TV screen. Allcast makes this process swifter and more convenient.

85. VLC Media Player (Free)

VLC Media Player is a utility app for Android, iOS, Windows, macOS, and now, FireStick OS. VLC is a very popular app and has been around for a long time, being one of the most reliable video (and audio) players out there.

With VLC, you can watch videos in almost every video file format imaginable. Should you ever encounter a movie or series in an obscure video file format, try to open it with VLC Media Player. Chances are that VLC supports that format and you will be able to view the content in the file.

VLC is so versatile that it also has streaming capabilities. You can use it to stream video and audio content on the internet or even on a local network. What's more? You can also use VLC to meet your torrenting needs. All you need to do is install a plug-in and you can use VLC to download torrents.

86. Zoom (Free + Paid)

Many people have heard about Zoom, a cloud-based meetings and video communications app that became one of the most-downloaded apps in the world at the peak of the pandemic. What you may not know is that this video chatting service is available for use on FireStick and other Fire TV devices.

Zoom lets users carry out a variety of video conferencing tasks online. Zoom users can meet, work, and socialize together when meeting each other physically is not possible. They can conduct online classes, training sessions, webinars, and meetings, and they can stay in contact with friends and family through HD video and audio calls.

You can use Zoom on your FireStick in a couple of ways. If your Fire TV has a front camera, you can hold video calls with the help of a microphone. An alternative and more practical method is screen mirroring, or casting, from your smartphone or your computer to your TV.

Zoom is officially available as Zoom Cloud Meetings in the Amazon Appstore. It has both free and paid plans. The paid plan unlocks a bunch of extra product features. It also removes the limits that come with using the app for free, such as hosting up to only 100 participants on a Zoom call.

87. Wolf Launcher (Free)

For a lot of FireStick users, the native Fire TV does not provide the most eye-catching and elegant design. While the Fire OS is based on a custom version of the Android OS, it does not come close to Android in terms of interface customization. As a result, FireStick users are left with a home screen and background that are bland and boring. Unless they use a custom launcher.

There are several custom launchers available for the FireStick, and Wolf Launcher is one of the best. It allows users to customize virtually all aspects of their home screen. They can organize their apps, creating a home screen that is both visually pleasing and efficient to use. Apps can be resized, grouped into folders, and even concealed for privacy purposes.

In addition, Wolf Launcher removes the sponsored and suggested Amazon apps and banners that come with the default OS. This helps you to declutter the home screen and save data. Wolf Launcher is a third-party app, so it is not available in the official Amazon Appstore.

88. Aurora Store (Free)

If you are a regular FireStick user, then you may have noticed that unlike Android TV, it lacks the official Google Play Store. Aurora Store is an open-source utility app that provides an alternative to the Google Play Store.

The app doesn't just resemble the official Play Store app—it allows FireStick and other Fire TV users to download and install Android apps that are present in the Google Play Store. Additionally, Aurora Store mimics other Play Store features, such as the ability to manage installed apps from the store. For example, you can update existing apps with Aurora Store.

The Aurora Store comes in handy because the Amazon Appstore does not have nearly as large of an app collection as the Google Play Store. That means you are restricted in the apps that you can install on your device without sideloading app APKs. Aurora Store fills that gap, providing a massive library of apps to choose from.

Aurora Store has a well-designed and intuitive interface. You don't need a Google Play account to use the app on your FireStick.

89. Task Killer (Free)

Sometimes, your FireStick slows down to a sluggish pace that can be quite frustrating. Task Killer is a lightweight utility app that helps to optimize the speed and performance of your device. The app provides a summary of apps that are running in the background and causing the device to be drained of its system resources.

When your FireStick's RAM is taken up by lots of apps and tasks running in the background, it will slow down and buffer more. Task Killer frees up this space by killing background apps and tasks, thereby providing an instant speed boost to your device. In fact, you can kill apps and free up valuable RAM for your FireStick in a single click.

Task Killer also helps clean the cache of your device and installed apps, as well as clear app data. When you launch the app, it will show you the active apps running in the background and the amount of available memory you currently have. It has an "Ignore" feature that lets you add some apps to a whitelist, preventing them from being auto-killed.

Task Killer is a free third-party app.
